MARYMOUNT
COLLEGE

BOCA RATON,
FLORIDA

Thank you for this feeling of joy and of love
It only comes but once,
And it goes so quickly, too quickly

Thank you for forgiving,
That has brought the sun to shine
And the flowers to grow, and when the rain was
About to fall, you brought the sun in
To shine on my simple little heart

To happy memorable days, we've shared
Together, though simple, thank you for them all.

Now I can't find the door,
To exist, and I'm poking blindly,
To find the truth about myself, and
Those I have loved.

You have guided me this far,
Now it is my turn to guide others,
And to lead myself on through this long and lonely pathway

Please, help me to find where the door really
Is, that will set my heart, my mind and my Soul free

And where does it lead too?
Is it the sea?
Is it the sky?

Thanks again for seeing me by

PRESIDENT
Marymount
COLLEGE
DR. D. E. ROSS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE 1974

To all of you who have attended Marymount College and Wilmington College at Boca Raton, I express the hope that from your years with us you may take into the future broad vision, deep conviction, and a driving faith.

It is my earnest hope that you have become aware that this college is "Your College" and have glimpsed something of its ideals and its future. Many of our earlier graduates are now doing their part to make the college a great force in the community and the nation.

At this time, all of us should be aware and deeply appreciative of our debt to those men and women on our Board of Trustees and Faculty, whose interest and active support have guided and sustained the college during its formative and transitional years. I wish to express the gratitude of all of us for their past services and their continuing involvement and dedication.

Our society has too long been content to accept the way that is expedient rather than the way that is right. We have discovered that expediency is frequently the way to disaster. We are now more than ever in need of men and women capable of shaping the events of our day, men and women possessed of the knowledge that happenings of today determine the trends of tomorrow. We must recognize that without men and women of vision and courage, the events of today will lead to disaster tomorrow.

May each of you shun the cynicism of despair and discover a faith that will accomplish the impossible.

Donald E. Ross

DEDICATED TO DR. WILLIAM WIXTED

A SALUTE TO DR. WILLIAM WIXTED

Dr. William G. Wixted, Academic Dean of Marymount College, is Mr. Marymount. A native of Troy, New York, he was Chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Education of Hunter College in New York. His career there spanned 38 years. While there he became acquainted with the noted American educator, John Dewey and the American behaviorist, John B. Watson. By accident he met Leon Trotsky, who was living in the U.S. under an assumed name.

Dr. Jules Belford, Chairman of the Department of Arts and Humanities, was a student of Dr. Wixted's at Hunter College. Fortunately, Dr. Wixted convinced Dr. Belford to assume a teaching position at Marymount College in Boca Raton. He often remarks about the unique situation of watching a former student at work in his own discipline of philosophy. Both men are a credit to their field of study.

For students who know Dr. Wixted only by the name Wixted Hall, this article is an open invitation to meet this man of many talents. You will find a man with a zest for living and a continuing quest for knowledge. Also you will encounter a synthesis of ideas, attitudes and experiences of many years. His outlook is that of a universalist—a man of many seasons, but for all seasons.

Visit the Academic Dean, discuss your problems and seek advice and wisdom. Remember, he is your Dean and he has given greatly to the development of this college. Accept the opportunity of this, your college experience. You will not be disappointed, and you will come away with a new outlook on life.

And I have sought to find God in my own time.

I have found the man, who is a legend in his own time, he can make me whole, if he only took the time.

He makes me happy, even though he is not mine, but a time, it's all a matter of time.

I seek to find love and beauty in those natural pieces of holy ground (as pass from place to place)

But, now I am just a confused little clown.

SPORTS

MARYMOUNT COLLEGE BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1973-74 basketball season marked Marymount's initial effort at varsity basketball. While the won-lost record was not impressive, the ground work was laid for a potentially strong basketball program. No matter what the outcome, the Blue Marlins and Coach Freel's character remained.

TENNIS TEAM NUMBER ONE IN STATE

The Tennis Team approached its season with much anticipation. After many long hours of practice, the girls developed a winning form. The result was first place in the Florida Junior College competition. The team placed second in the state for all colleges and universities.

Playing little kiddie games
My age—it's 24
Sitting on the swing set that my neighbor had next door.

And trying to decide if I should disobey or not s Trying to stay mad when someone breaks my flowers pot.

And rolling down the hills
The spills were better than the ways
Of grownups without music playing to sets all day.

Parents' Weekend 1974

Parents' Weekend (February 22-24) took as its theme "Springtime in the Old South" which proved a prophetic choice in view of the sunny skies and warm weather. The weekend began on Friday evening with a production by the dance and drama students. The dance classes, under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Remus, presented a performance entitled "Life". It traced, in dance, the various stages of life from childhood through adulthood. The Drama department, under the direction of Mr. William Smith, presented a short adaptation of "Catcher in the Rye". The performances were well attended and very much enjoyed by both parents and students.

On Saturday morning the parents met informally over coffee and pastry with members of the faculty and later enjoyed a picnic lunch at the pool. A social hour followed by a dinner-dance for parents, students, faculty and administration was held that evening. On Sunday morning, Fr. Devereaux celebrated Mass which was followed by brunch. Though the energy crisis prevented some parents from attending, those who could come had a good time and agreed that "Springtime in the South beats Winter in the North!"

Changes

I am going through such phenomenal changes
Never do I feel the same from one day to the next
Never do I think the same way from one moment to the next.

I am always in these constant changes changing what I want,
Why am I always flickering like a candle and I can't figure out why?

Why must I go through these changes? And why all alone?
It's so funny how these changes come and go so quickly
There goes the sun, passing through a cloud
There goes me, changing from brightness
To the dark paleness—solemn—like that sun passing through the clouds.

Why must I go through these changes. It has baffled me so intensely
That it is affecting my every motions, my every thoughts, my every wishes and desires.

I want to be ruled by reason and I want to be judged with and by understanding.

I want to be sensitive, and at the same time brave and strong.
I want to be together, and yet I want to be alone and apart . . .
I want to be free and yet I want to belong to something or someone.

Why must I go through these changes it's things are tearing me apart
Maybe only if the black horse of death rides up to me
Then I'll even change my mind and send him away,
Not wanting to travel that path that will stop changing
This foolish mind and heart.
